Become a Sponsor of the PVinMotion 2023 Conference

We are happy to invite you to PVinMotion 2023, the world's first scientific conference dedicated to vehicle-integrated photovoltaics. In 2021, the conference attracted the attention of numerous recognized experts from both industry and academia. After this success, we are now looking forward to the second edition of this new conference series.

The conference brings together acknowledged experts from the worlds of science and industry to present their innovative work among the global PV community. Our aim is to explore the cutting-edge technologies and frameworks of integrating PV into different vehicles and together take advantage of the current, unprecedented momentum in both VIPV research and application.

PVinMotion 2023 is taking place in the Netherlands, from February 15-17, 2023. The conference will be hosted by TNO Energy Transition in 's-Hertogenbosch. At this outstanding event, participants will share the newest findings in the sphere of VIPV made by the representatives of leading institutions, research centers, and industry.

MANAGEMENT BOARD AND ORGANIZERS

Show who you are and secure your sponsorship or exhibition advantages today!

Sponsoring the PVinMotion 2023 Conference is an ideal way to give your company visibility and highlight your activities and ideas as a strong and important player in the highly innovative and trendsetting field of vehicle-integrated PV. Sponsors will get maximum visibility before, during and after the conference on the conference website, the virtual conference platform and on promotional material. If your focus is only on local presence during the event, the exhibitor package will perfectly fit your needs.

Your benefits

- Maximize your company's visibility on-site, on the conference website and on the virtual conference platform.
- Take advantage of new ways of networking to show your latest research, innovations and services.
- Profit from the opportunity to communicate with a global and future-oriented audience.
- Develop contacts with ambitious experts in the field. PVinMotion 2023 will provide high-level exchange and great networking opportunities for experts from science and industry working on VIPV-solutions:
  - Researchers from all VIPV-related areas;
  - Module and material producers;
  - Technology and electronics suppliers;
  - Designers, advisors, finance & business.

Our conference will provide a platform to discuss topics such as:

- PV cell & module technology
- Vehicle technology (with or without PV)
- System energy management
- Safety & reliability
- Performance & costs
- Production & implementation
- Environmental & social impact

We look forward to working with you!
